Month-Long Campaign Starts Monday

Stock in Development Corp. Is To Be Offered Here Now

A campaign to sell stock in the new Washington C. H. Industrial Development Corp. is all set to get under way next Monday.

The new corporation, chartered by the state as a corporation for profit, now has only 44 shareholders, who have bought 284 shares of stock at $25 a share, a total of $7,100.

No effort has been made to sell the stock since the charter was issued, although it was publicly announced several times that it was available to anyone.

Now a month-long stock selling campaign has been planned to make the corporation a going concern.

The purpose of the corporation is to promote the economic growth and stability of the community by attracting new industries and, thereby, creating more jobs.

The theme of the campaign is: "Invest in Your Future."

ALTHOUGH THE corporation is capitalized at $200,000, Tom Mark, the chairman, said the goal of the campaign is to sell only $100,000 worth of stock—that would be 4,000 shares at $25 per share.

"Of course," he added, "it would be much better if the entire $200,000 is subscribed."

Before the corporation could get going, it had to have a board of directors and officers and only stockholders are eligible to elect these.

So, the 44 who bought the 284 shares early elected a board of directors made up of L. M. Hayes, Richard Waters, Paul Rodenfeld, Don Gibson, Ben F. Norris, Neil Helfrich, John R. Craig, William Stoughton, Richard Willis Jr., H. H. Denton, Perse Harlow, Tom Mark, George Baker, J. Roush Burton and Tom Murray.

The board then chose Murray for president, Burton for treasurer and Baker for secretary.

Once the board was elected, and the officers named, the stock selling campaign was one of the first things taken up; for, the capital re-

Khrushchev Shuns Old 'Blood Purge'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev is trying to persuade the people of Russia that the day of the Stalinist blood purge is ended.

That is the significance attached here to the astonishing exile from Moscow ordered for former premier Georgi Malenkov after his removal from political power.

Ever since the July 3 announcement of the big political purge of Khrushchev's enemies, U.S. officials have been waiting eagerly to find out what the ultimate fate of the purge victims would be.

Moscow radio gave the first of what may be a series of answers Wednesday night with the announcement that Malenkov has been appointed manager of a hydroelectric power station in East Kazakhstan.

This is a terrific comedown for a man who personally served dictator Joseph Stalin at the height of his power and who himself was premier for a time after Stalin's death.

YET AGAINST the background of decades of terror which characterized Stalin's rule—years in which removal from office was for a political leader almost the equivalent of a death sentence—Malenkov's fate falls far short of what it might have been.

The Soviet announcement seemed designed to point that up, saying that Malenkov and others ousted from top posts were not being persecuted were given "every opportunity" to express their view and were removed in "the most democratic way possible."

What seems to be significant about the Khrushchev group's decision on Malenkov's future is that he is being given another job, however unimportant, and he is not being executed.

The experts relate this to the general line of Khrushchev's policy, which seems to require a belief on the part of the Soviet people generally that the penalty for error in the Soviet Union will no longer be excessive, that failure will no mean death.

Such a belief is considered especially important on the part of the thousands of lower level leaders, industrial managers and technicians.

This is regarded as tremendously important to Khrushchev's whole effort to inspire the country to new peaks of industrial and agricultural production by means which call essentially for voluntary rather than for forced labor.

Midwest Hog Price Drop Is Studied

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department reported today that marketings of hogs in Midwestern markets have dropped to the lowest level since mid-1954.

One of the factors is a relatively low number of hogs on farms. Production has dipped from high levels of recent years. The small offering has boosted prices to highest points in two years.

The department also reported that hog prices in June were quite favorable in relation to prices of corn, the major feed. In June, prices were such that 100 pounds of live hog would buy an average of 14.9 bushels of corn. A year ago, that much hog would buy only 10.9 bushels.

Child Bride, 11, Back with Parents

MUNFORD, Tenn. (AP)—An 11-year-old child bride was home with her parents today and her father says he may seek an annulment.

Jesse H. Scott, 44-year-old divorced truck driver and Portia Virginia Johnson were wed last May 27 at Senatobia, Miss. The bride returned to her parent's home after the ceremony went back with Scott June 30, then went back to her parents last Saturday.

Scott said Portia's father, Leroy Johnson, objected to the marriage but her mother did not attend the civil ceremony.

'Enemy' Bombs Coming Friday

Mock Civil Defense Exercise Scheduled

WASHINGTON (AP)—"Enemy" bombers will dump imaginary nuclear destruction on scores of American cities Friday in a grim game of "let's pretend."

The mock catastrophe will signal the opening of Operation Alert 1957, the fourth nationwide civil defense training exercise.

The idea is to prepare citizens and government officials alike for conditions of nuclear war. It will include simulated relief, rescue and evacuation programs, federal government operation in the field, and all-out retaliation on the "enemy."

Sometime during the seven-day period, a fleet of 14 helicopters will whisk President Eisenhower and his staff to an emergency White House, location undisclosed. Eisenhower is expected to spend only one day or less inspecting his hideaway and its operation, then return to Washington.

THE CITIES to be blasted with the mock hydrogen and atomic bombs will not be informed of their fate until just before the exercise. Rescue, relief and evacuation efforts will occupy the first three days.

On Monday, some 7,500 government workers will fan out to 30-odd secret relocation centers in a half dozen Eastern states. From there, the work of reconstruction and retaliation will be conducted for four days.

The first period of attack and immediate post-attack operations will primarily involve local civil defense groups and the Federal Civil Defense Administration.

20 Million Moslems Mourning Death Of Wealthy Potentate, Aga Khan, 79

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP)—The Aga Khan III, a wealthy potentate to whom 20 million Moslems paid spiritual homage, died today, he was 79.

A glamorous figure on the international scene for many years, the Aga Khan succumbed to a weakening of the heart during the night. He had been suffering from heart trouble since 1952.

He was known as a sportsman with an ardent interest in race horses, a devotee of luxurious living, and a man with an eye for a beautiful woman. But he was also interested in affairs of state and once served as president of the League of Nations.

He once expressed his love of material pleasures in these words: "Have fun, it's later than you think."

But of his devotion to his Moslem faith:

"Each Friday, like every good Moslem, I spend an hour in meditation and prayer. That is my most beautiful hour."

Prince Aly Khan, 46, has generally been regarded as the heir apparent, but some doubt recently was expressed as to whether he or Prince Sadruddin, 24, the Aga's Harvard-educated younger son would be named. The Aga was said to have been disturbed about Aly's playboy activities. Aly is the former husband of Hollywood actress Rita Hayworth.

At the bedside when death came was the Aga Khan's wife (his fourth) and both sons. Sadruddin is planning to marry Nina Dyer, a London model. The wedding had been set for Monday.

The Aga Khan was flown to Geneva from Paris on June 18 to escape a heat spell which contributed to his deteriorating condition.

His weight had dropped to 152 pounds—half of that in the days when he was weighed by his subjects against gold, platinum or diamonds on his various anniversaries. The money value went to the Aga Khan's many charities.

His Moslem followers were scattered everywhere in the world but live chiefly in Pakistan, India, Afghanistan, Iran, Arabia, Syria, Morocco and Zanzibar.

He himself deprecated reports of his great wealth in his autobiography, published in 1954.

"There must be hundreds of people in the United States with a larger capital wealth than mine," he said.

He explained that although he had control over a huge income from his followers, this control carried with it an "unwritten law" that it should be used for the upkeep of a great number of social and religious institutions so that very little was left.

His followers presented him with annual tithes and on great jubilee occasions conducted elaborate weighing ceremonies, match-

Return of John Trace Asked by Mrs. Walls

A motion asking that John B. Trace, former principal of Washington C. H. High School, be ordered arrested and brought back here for cross examination on his deposition in the embezzlement case against her was filed in Common Pleas Court here Thursday by Mrs. Beverly Clickner Walls.

Mrs. Walls is under indictment for embezzlement of $9,874 from the high school activities fund, partly during the time Trace was principal. She was clerk in the office at the time of the alleged embezzlement.

Trace left here either June 30 or July 1 before his deposition in the case had been completed. Trace suffered a nervous collapse after two days of testimony, by deposition, when Mrs. Walls filed suit for $100,000 against him for defamation of her character.

Nearly a month before, Trace had resigned as high school principal to take the position of director of education on the island of Guam. He told the school board at that time he was to take up his new position on Guam July 1 and wanted to leave here no later than June 15. However, he made arrangements to delay his start until July 1.

When he failed to show up for the third day of the deposition, he could not be located. Sheriff Orland Hays said his furniture had been moved from his home, 713 Dayton Ave. Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Trace said they did not know where they had gone, but most assumed they had left for Guam on July 1 as they had said they would.

Moscow Says Malenkov Handed Remote Job

LONDON (AP)—Moscow radio says none of the deposed Kremlin leaders is being persecuted.

It made that declaration in announcing that Georgi Malenkov is being hustled off to run a power plant 1,800 miles from Moscow and the other ousted leaders are getting other unspecified jobs.

The broadcast Wednesday night also asserted that the appointment of the former premier as manager of the hydroelectric station at Ust Kamenogorsk is proof that the Soviet system is democratic.

But observers pointed out that Malenkov, target of the most serious accusations of the top four purged leaders, would be unable to offer much opposition to Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev in Ust Kamenogorsk even if he should try. It's about as remote a spot as there is in the Soviet Union.

THE BROADCAST did not give the nature of the new assignments for V. M. Molotov, Lazar Kaganovich and Dmitri Shepilov, who were ousted from their Kremlin posts along with Malenkov for "antiparty activities." It said only that they had been given other work.

Malenkov's new job, the broadcast said, "makes it clear that the myths being spread by some of the Western journalists about the persecution of the members of the antiparty group are merely intended to defame the democratic Soviet system and the Central Committee of the Communist party."

High Tribunal Vote Shows No Dissent

Army Specialist Girard To Be Handed Over to Japanese Jurisdiction

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court today upheld 8-0 the U. S. government's decision to turn over GI William S. Girard to Japan for trial in the killing of a Japanese woman.

The high court, in an unsigned opinion, ruled:

1. Delivery of Girard is not prohibited by the Constitution; and 2. In the absence of a constitutional bar, the judgment of the executive department should be upheld.

Girard is to be turned over to the Japanese under a status of forces agreement, similar to pacts the United States has with some 50 friendly nations.

The Supreme Court held that in the absence of a constitutional violation the "wisdom of the arrangement is exclusively for the determination of the executive and legislative branches of government."

And, the court said: "We find no constitutional or statutory barrier to the provision as applied here."

CHIEF JUSTICE Warren read the opinion for the court in a specially called session.

The case had been under consideration by the justices since Monday when they held another special session to hear four hours of argument on it.

Justice Douglas did not participate. He had left on vacation before the high court agreed to pass on an order by U.S. District Judge Joseph C. McGarraghy barring Girard's delivery to the Japanese for trial.

The decision was a major victory for President Eisenhower's administration, which has contended that refusal to turn Girard over to the Japanese would be a grave threat to America's security.

The administration argument was that if the agreements under which Americans overseas may be tried by foreign courts for off-duty acts were cancelled, U. S. forces would have to come home.

At the same time, the decision was a setback for forces in Congress which contend the U. S. Constitution goes with GIs overseas and they must have its full protection.

Girard is accused of the Japanese equivalent of manslaughter in the death of a woman metal scavenger Jan. 30 on a firing range used by both U. S. and Japanese troops.

She was shot with an empty cartridge case fired from a rifle grenade launcher. The Japanese contend the woman, who was scavenging metal scrap, was entitled to the area where she was shot.

ALONG WITH its opinion, the Supreme Court released the full text of a secret Defense Department affidavit in the case.

It had been kept under seal in the lower court and in the arguments before the Supreme Court, on the basis of a government contention that it might "prejudice" Girard's case whether he was tried by Japan or by U. S. courtmartial.

In a footnote on the printed text the Supreme Court said it was unsealing the document because the court "considers that the issues in this case should be decided on a fully disclosed record."

The affidavit, by Robert Deert, general counsel of the Defense Department, relates that:

The woman was among scrap metal scavengers whom the soldiers had been unable to move out of a danger area.

When the scrap collectors stayed, all ball ammunition was withdrawn from the troops and blanks were given them.

The help of Japanese police was asked in removing the scrap collectors, but up to the time of the shooting such help had not appeared.

Girard and Specialist 3e Victor N. Nickel were directed to guard a machinegun and some equipment.

Girard said in a statement early in the Army inquiry that he had orders to "get the Japanese (Please turn to page two)"

House-passed bill into strictly a voting-rights measure.

Leaders called the Senate into session early to resume debate on a motion of Sen. Knowland of California, GOP floor leader, to bring the House measure before the Senate for action.

In opposing this motion, Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) and other Southerners have contended the House bill would permit the attorney general (backed by troops, if necessary) to move into the South to enforce school integration and racial desegregation.

Russell reported that as a result of the Southerners' attack on the terms of what he calls a "vicious" measure, opposition to the bill is mounting.

"I HAVE BEEN greatly encouraged by the developments of the last few days," he said. "I have come to the conclusion that the Senate will not pass the bill in its present form."

One of these developments was Russell's conference Wednesday with President Eisenhower. The Georgia senator evidently brought away new hope that the administration itself will move toward a compromise.

The apparent trend toward compromise brought from Rep. Celler (D-NY) a statement that "there seems to be no fight in the administration."

Celler, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee and a strong advocate of the administration-backed House bill, said, "The President bends with every wind."

Eisenhower has said his objective is to insure the voting rights of all citizens. He has expressed surprise at the interpretation Russell and others have placed on the bill's powers.

Francis Case, one of the measure's sponsors, said the amendment he is drafting would link the bill's enforcement provisions to the 15th Amendment to the Constitution. That provision says the right to vote shall not be abridged because of race, color or previous servitude.

Ohio Cutting Aid to Aged By One-Third

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio has been forced to cut by one-third its financial help to needy aged persons who require health care.

Thomas Weiler, chief of the Division of Aid for the Aged, said county welfare directors will receive formal notice shortly.

Weiler said the step is made necessary by decision of the Legislature not to appropriate as much money as the division thought necessary and the continued rise in cost of health care.

The division figured its health care needs for the two years that began July 1 at $27 million. It received an $18 million allocation.

In June the division spent $1 million for health care. It has on its rolls the names of 94,500 aged persons who need its services, although only 18,000 to 20,000 need health care any one month.

Based on the June rate of spending, the division had been paying for $5 million worth of hospital bills a year, $2½ million worth of doctor fees, $3 million for nursing care, one half-million each for $200,000 for outpatient care and $300,000 for nursing service in the home.

Wilmington Driver Killed by Own Auto

WILMINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Pauline Ames, 43, of Wilmington died under the wheels of the car she had been driving early today.

The Ohio Highway Patrol said Mrs. Ames apparently lost control of the car on a hill 1.2 miles north of here on U. S. 98, and was thrown out when the car tore through 100 feet of guard railing. The car ran over her.

High Tribunal Vote Shows No Dissent

Army Specialist Girard To Be Handed Over to Japanese Jurisdiction

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court today upheld 8-0 the U. S. government's decision to turn over GI William S. Girard to Japan for trial in the killing of a Japanese woman.

The high court, in an unsigned opinion, ruled:

1. Delivery of Girard is not prohibited by the Constitution; and 2. In the absence of a constitutional bar, the judgment of the executive department should be upheld.

Girard is to be turned over to the Japanese under a status of forces agreement, similar to pacts the United States has with some 50 friendly nations.

The Supreme Court held that in the absence of a constitutional violation the "wisdom of the arrangement is exclusively for the determination of the executive and legislative branches of government."

And, the court said: "We find no constitutional or statutory barrier to the provision as applied here."

CHIEF JUSTICE Warren read the opinion for the court in a specially called session.

The case had been under consideration by the justices since Monday when they held another special session to hear four hours of argument on it.

Justice Douglas did not participate. He had left on vacation before the high court agreed to pass on an order by U.S. District Judge Joseph C. McGarraghy barring Girard's delivery to the Japanese for trial.

The decision was a major victory for President Eisenhower's administration, which has contended that refusal to turn Girard over to the Japanese would be a grave threat to America's security.

The administration argument was that if the agreements under which Americans overseas may be tried by foreign courts for off-duty acts were cancelled, U. S. forces would have to come home.

At the same time, the decision was a setback for forces in Congress which contend the U. S. Constitution goes with GIs overseas and they must have its full protection.

Girard is accused of the Japanese equivalent of manslaughter in the death of a woman metal scavenger Jan. 30 on a firing range used by both U. S. and Japanese troops.

She was shot with an empty cartridge case fired from a rifle grenade launcher. The Japanese contend the woman, who was scavenging metal scrap, was enticed to the area where she was shot.

ALONG WITH its opinion, the Supreme Court released the full text of a secret Defense Department affidavit in the case.

It had been kept under seal in the lower court and in the arguments before the Supreme Court, on the basis of a government contention that it might "prejudice" Girard's case whether he was tried by Japan or by U. S. courtmartial.

In a footnote on the printed text the Supreme Court said it was unsealing the document because the court "considers that the issues in this case should be decided on a fully disclosed record."

The affidavit, by Robert Deert, general counsel of the Defense Department, relates that: "The woman was among scrap metal scavengers whom the soldiers had been unable to move out of a danger area."

When the scrap collectors stayed, all ball ammunition was withdrawn from the troops and blanks were given them.

The help of Japanese police was asked in removing the scrap collectors, but up to the time of the shooting such help had not appeared.

Girard and Specialist 3c Victor N. Nickel were directed to guard a machinegun and some equipment.

Girard said in a statement early in the Army inquiry that he had orders to "get the Japanese" (Please turn to page two)

THE PRICE of the stock was purposely kept low, it was explained, in order to put it within reach of everyone. It has been emphasized from the start that the directors feel that the more stockholders there are the more effective will be the corporation.

The campaign is to be conducted by 14 teams of five members each, with each team under the leadership of a member of the board.

A kickoff dinner is to be held at Grange Hall next Monday at 7 p. m. The campaigners will hear C. F. Simonin, the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. representative for this area, describe how similar industrial development corporations have operated in other cities and what success they have had.

The campaigners also will be given detailed information about the plans, policies and objectives of the new corporation here in order that they may explain them fully to prospective stockholders.

Ten days after the start of the campaign, the teams are to meet again, this time for a progress report. Ten days later another similar meeting will be held. The team that has sold the most stock will be the guest of the other teams for these meetings.

Before they start out, each team will be given a list of prospective stockholders. This, it was explained, is to avoid duplication.

WHILE THE new corporation is designed to lend financial help to industry to industries locating in the Washington, C. H. area, it has been made plain that "this is not a give-away."

Instead any financial help given will be on a loan basis similar to that of established financial institutions. Interest will be charged on the loans; that is why this was made a corporation for profit. Murray, chairman of the committee that set up the framework for the corporation here and later its first president, said "expectations are that the stock can be redeemed at full value at the end of the 20-year life of the corporation with interest on the investment besides... that is why it was made a corporation for profit... we expect those who buy stock to a profit in money on their investment as well as a profit through the development of the community in which they live."

GIRARD'S OWN word is the only evidence of any order to get the Japanese away.

The opinion expressed confidence that U.S. authorities "will see that all evidence is available" to Girard and his counsel for the Japanese trial, "and will render every proper assistance to him; and his counsel in protection of his rights."

Girard is accused of killing a woman metal scavenger on an Army firing range in Japan.

The woman, Mrs. Naka Sakai, was shot in the back Jan. 30 on a firing range used by both U.S. and Japanese soldiers. Japanese civilians in the area salvaged scrap metal and were allowed to farm on parts of the range when it was not in use.

Japanese authorities charged that Girard enticed the woman to come forward and that he shot her with an empty cartridge case fired from the grenade launcher of his rifle.

Girard denied enticement and contended the shooting was an accident.

A sworn statement by Robert Dechert, general counsel for the Defense Department, entitled "affidavit with respect to facts," figured in the proceedings in both the U.S. and Supreme courts. It included a statement by Specialist 3-C Victor M. Nickel, Girard's companion on guard duty at the time of the incident.

In the hearing before Judge Joseph C. McGarraghy, in Federal District Court here, U.S. Atty. Oliver Gasch handed the paper to the judge with the suggestion that it be sealed and not made a part of the public record. Gasch suggested this on the ground the statement would be prejudicial to Girard in a trial, whether before a Japanese court or in an Army court-martial.

In arguing the case before the Supreme Court, Solicitor General J. Lee Rankin spoke of "enticement" and "inducement" as among the considerations which led to the U.S. decision to yield Girard to Japan for trial.

Chief Justice Warren asked if there was any legal reason why the affidavit would not be considered by the Supreme Court. Rankin replied that he knew of no legal reason why the court could not take the affidavit into account and repeated the only reason for secrecy had been to avoid prejudicing Girard. Warren commented that the court would consider the affidavit if it became necessary in reaching its decision.

Supreme Court justices gave much attention to the matter of inducement in their questions to opposing attorneys.

Rep. Bursleson (D-Tex.) said recently that a House Foreign Affairs subcommittee had been informed that Girard "coaxed" Mrs. Sakai to approach. Nevertheless, Bursleson said, the soldier was on official duty and should be tried by U.S. court-martial.

The decision to turn Girard over to Japan, and McGarraghy's order blocking this, set off an international furor.

It led to congressional demands for renegotiation or revocation of some 50 friendly nations. Those are the pacts which permit foreign trials for American soldiers for acts outside of duty.

President Eisenhower was reported to have said the move to end foreign trials of American soldiers "would be a threat to the United States and to the free world."

The administration argument in that regard is that American forces overseas everywhere would have to be pulled back if the agreements were cancelled.

Martin's reference was to a resolution by Rep. Bow (R-Ohio) aimed at revising the system for such trials.

In a July 1 letter to Chairman Gordon (D-Ill.) of the House Foreign Affairs Committee which had approved the Bow proposal, Secretary of Defense Wilson wrote:

"The practical effect (of cancelling the status-of-forces pacts) would be the withdrawal of U.S. forces from all over the world and reliance upon a fortress America concept for the defense of the continental United States."

In cases involving violation of both military law and Japanese law, there is concurrent jurisdiction in the United States and Japan. Depending on the particular case, one country or the other has primary jurisdiction. There is a provision, however, the country with primary jurisdiction will give sympathetic consideration to a request of the other country that it waive its jurisdiction.

The Girard case was one in which the United States claimed primary jurisdiction and there United States finally gave in to Japan's demands that it be allowed to try Girard.

Girard's attorneys contended with Japan is unconstitutional and that any action under it is illegal and void.

The attorneys argued that an Army in the territory of a foreign nation is not subject to the criminal laws of that nation, whether it enters the foreign country by force or by consent.

The attorneys further contended that Girard would not receive a fair trial in the Japanese courts under U.S. standards of justice, thereby violating the soldier's constitutional rights.

In effect they called for a direct ruling that treaties are subordinate to the constitution and must conform to it.

McGarraghy in his decision cited Section 8 of Article I of the Constitution which provides that Congress shall have power "to make rules for the government and regulation of the land and naval forces."

If Girard is subject to prosecution for an act or omission by him as a member of the U.S. armed forces in the performance of official duty, McGarraghy said, the prosecution must be under procedures provided by the uniform code of military justice which Congress enacted in 1950.

The Justice Department said that for the purposes of the Girard litigation in its present state, "the killing may be deemed to have arisen out of an act done duty." But the department took the position that Girard never was ordered to use his gun in the manner alleged. That point was the legal crux of the original Pentagon decision to turn Girard over to the Japanese.

McGarraghy held that by applying to Girard the same constitutional protection against delivery to a foreign state that would be applied to his delivery for prosecution in a state court, it follows that the proposed delivery to Japan "is illegal and in violation of the Constitution and laws of the United States."

McGarraghy based his decision largely on an 1890 Supreme Court decision (known as "In re Neagle") that persons acting in the course of duty as an agent of the United States are accountable only to federal jurisdiction for alleged unlawful acts.

While the case was being fought out in American courts, Girard was married in Japan to Haru (Candy) Sueyama. The soldier is under Army custody at Camp Whittington, a base 60 miles from Tokyo. His bride is staying in an apartment near the base.

Clinton Defense Seeks Look At FBI Files in Dispute

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Defense attorneys in the Clinton segregation trial were battling today for complete access to the formerly secret FBI files. They demanded to see exactly what they contain regarding the 16 accused men and women.

"We are going to try for everything we can get," a lawyer said. The defense already has obtained one document from the FBI file—a signed statement by Robert G. Grossno, chairman of the Anderson County (Clinton) School Board.

But it has not seen a summary of the agents' reports on the violence at Clinton.

This document is in the hands of U.S. Dist. Judge Robert L. Aylor, who has withheld a ruling on whether defense attorneys are entitled to examine the report.

The FBI entered the Clinton case last December after riots had broken out over enrolling Negroes in the high school there. A Baptist minister, the Rev. Paul Turner, was beaten for escorting six Negroes to the schoolhouse.

On trial today are 15 Tennesseans. The 16th defendant is dark-haired John Kasper, New Jersey segregation leader.

THEY ARE accused of flouting a federal injunction not to interfere with integrating the high school. It is the first state-supported high school in Tennessee to mix the races.

A dramatic courtroom battle, with a dozen opposing attorneys on their feet at the same time, developed when the defense demanded to see the FBI files.

"We should have it now so we can prepare our case and not be forced to wait until we are sandbagged," said J. Benjamin Simmons of Washington, D. C., who represents Kasper.

"They only want the file so they can intimidate our witnesses," rumbled big-shouldered John C. Crawford, the U.S. district attorney who is prosecuting the case.

Driver Is Cited After Collision

A Springfield man was cited for failure to yield the right of way after an accident at the corner of Court and North Sts. about 11 a. m. Wednesday.

Police identified the man as Bert Gangs, 66. They said Gangs was apparently going east on Court St. when he tried to make a left turn out of the right-hand lane.

He collided with the side of a car driven by Ollie James Malloy, 32, of Warren. Fenders, bumpers and Malloy's headlight were damaged. Gangs said he signaled before turning, the police report said.

Rep. Burleson (D-Tex.) said recently that a House Foreign Affairs subcommittee had been informed that Girard "coaxed" Mrs. Sakai to approach. Nevertheless, Burleson said, the soldier was on official duty and should be tried by U.S. court-martial.

The decision to turn Girard over to Japan, and McGarraghy's order blocking this, set off an international furor.

It led to congressional demands for renegotiation or revocation of some 50 friendly nations. Those are the pacts which permit foreign trials for American soldiers for acts outside of duty.

President Eisenhower was reported to have said the move to end foreign trials of American soldiers "would be a threat to the United States and to the free world."

The administration argument in that regard is that American forces overseas everywhere would have to be pulled back if the agreements were cancelled.

Martin's reference was to a resolution by Rep. Bow (R-Ohio) aimed at revising the system for such trials.

In a July 1 letter to Chairman Gordon (D-Ill.) of the House Foreign Affairs Committee which had approved the Bow proposal, Secretary of Defense Wilson wrote: "The practical effect of cancelling the status-of-forces pacts would be the withdrawal of U.S.

forces from all over the world and reliance upon a fortress America concept for the defense of the continental United States."

In cases involving violation of both military law and Japanese law, there is concurrent jurisdiction in the United States and Japan. Depending on the particular case, one country or the other has primary jurisdiction. There is a provision, however, the the country with primary jurisdiction will give sympathetic consideration to a request of the other country that it waive its jurisdiction.

The Girard case was one in which the United States claimed primary jurisdiction and there United States finally gave in to Japan's demands that it be allowed to try Girard.

Girard's attorneys contended with Japan is unconstitutional and that any action under it is illegal and void.

The attorneys argued that an Army in the territory of a foreign nation is not subject to the criminal laws of that nation, whether it enters the foreign country by force or by consent.

The attorneys further contended that Girard would not receive a fair trial in the Japanese courts under U.S. standards of justice, thereby violating the soldier's constitutional rights.

In effect they called for a direct ruling that treaties are subordinate to the constitution and must conform to it.

McGarraghy in his decision cited Section 8 of Article I of the Constitution which provides that Congress shall have power "to make rules for the government and regulation of the land and naval forces."

If Girard is subject to prosecution for an act or omission by him as a member of the U.S. armed forces in the performance of official duty, McGarraghy said, the prosecution must be under procedures provided by the uniform code of military justice which Congress enacted in 1950.

The Justice Department said that for the purposes of the Girard litigation in its present state, "the killing may be deemed to have arisen out of an act done duty." But the department took the position that Girard never was ordered to use his gun in the manner alleged. That point was the legal crux of the original Pentagon decision to turn Girard over to the Japanese.

McGarraghy held that by applying to Girard the same constitutional protection against delivery to a foreign state that would be applied to his delivery for prosecution in a state court, it follows that the proposed delivery to Japan "is illegal and in violation of the Constitution and laws of the United States."

McGarraghy based his decision largely on an 1890 Supreme Court decision (known as "in re neagle") that persons acting in the course of duty as an agent of the United States are accountable only to federal jurisdiction for alleged unlawful acts.

While the case was being fought out in American courts, Girard was married in Japan to Haru (Candy) Sueyama. The soldier is under Army custody at Camp Whittington, a base 60 miles from Tokyo. His bride is staying in an apartment near the base.

Clinton Defense Seeks Look At FBI Files in Dispute

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Defense attorneys in the Clinton segregation trial were battling today for complete access to the formerly secret FBI files. They demanded to see exactly what they contain regarding the 16 accused men and women.

"We are going to try for everything we can get," a lawyer said.

The defense already has obtained one document from the FBI file—a signed statement by Robert G. Gross, chairman of the Anderson County (Clinton) School Board.

But it has not seen a summary of the agents' reports on the violence at Clinton.

This document is in the hands of U.S. Dist. Judge Robert L. Ayler, who has withheld a ruling on whether defense attorneys are entitled to examine the report.

The FBI entered the Clinton case last December after riots had broken out over enrolling Negroes in the high school there. A Baptist minister, the Rev. Paul Turner,

Are We Victims of a "Gimme" Contagion?

In a communication received recently for this column, the writer who sent it suggested a thought that, although not new, appears well worth being repeated.

Doubtless he was so plagued with things that came to his notice that he was led to declare "the U.S.A. should be renamed 'the Gimme State.'"

Judging by his statements he had reached the conclusions he was writing about by reason of the fact that he had noticed a lot of his own friends and acquaintances had become stricken with the "Gimme" disease.

"As a matter of fact", he wrote, "I fear I also have become contaminated. I used to think I was a pretty self-reliant fellow but I am beginning to fear that I am falling victim of the virus, or whatever it may be called. I notice that I am beginning to reach out my hand for things, which down deep in my heart I do not rate."

"However", he continued, "I feel that I have some excuse because from morning till night I seem to feel that all I hear is 'gimme this and gimme that, gimme easier work, gimme better profits, gimme shorter hours, gimme higher wages, gimme higher pensions and start them sooner, gimme better crop benefits, gimme more government funds for schools' and an endless stream of other gimmies."

Perhaps this man was a little overwrought, but if we think about it, his exaggeration perhaps wasn't as great as it might seem at first reading.

The writer who sent this went on to say, however, that despite his apparent succumbing to the contagion, he was still against paternalistic, welfare government and concluded with the question "why is it that such a healthy, self-reliant people as we formerly were have come to contract such an unhealthy disease as 'the Gimmies.'"

That is a tough question he presented. Most of us will agree that it is difficult to understand or explain this type of disintegration among so many people.

We offer one guess however that it is the old story the growing influence of the demagogue backed by a greater and greater rise in the number of bureaucrats holding easy jobs.

In this or any other nation, every demagogue who has ever risen to power has gained the support of masses of the people by promising large groups some special economic or social advantage. It is a trick almost as old as time itself, to array the masses against the classes — the "have-nots" against the "haves."

This has happened in contemporary history in Russia, more recently in Italy, still later in Germany and Spain and most recently in France and England. For quite a number of years the demagogues have been operating full steam ahead in our land of the free and the brave.

When a demagogue prevails, it is primarily the fault of the people. He appeals to their vices rather than to their virtues. He arouses envy, fans it into hate, and when it is sufficiently inflamed, uses it for his own selfish ends to the eventual destruction of many of the very people whom he makes a pretense of protecting and helping.

We have seen demagogues at work here in America for quite some time. We have witnessed a premium being put on the vices — slackness and indolence — while penalties often have been exacted on such virtues — thrift and industry. The clamor of the "gimme" crowd has been encouraged, aided and abetted by the demagogue — for the gimmies are part of his stock and trade.

We are forgetting that people must PUT IN to a Republic — not TAKE OUT — if that Republic is to live. For some time we've done little but take out and if we continue with that process, we will sap the government of its strength and leave it vulnerable to vultures hovering near.

Continued appeals to the weaknesses of the American people — to their greed, envy and covetousness — will make for a weak and disunited Republic.

Moral stamina and manly virtue in a people are what give them unity of action and the esprit de corps necessary to repel any and all attempts at invasion or curtailment of their rights and freedoms.

To be strong, the American people must get out of the "something-for-nothing" trap into which the demagogues have seduced them. Someone said "there ain't no such thing as a free lunch." Whoever it was, spoke a great, even if ungrammatical truth.

It already is past time to get rid of this debilitating disease.

He Avoids Human Rat Race

By Hal Boyle

MARYVILLE, Tenn. (P)—Here lives a man who can whip inflation by the only possible way.

He doesn't buy much. He rarely spends in public. He lives by a personal standard above the changing dollar.

"This is no stunt with me," said Bert Garner, a tall, bent intellectual who at the age of 71 points out he can exist at the rate of 15 cents a day or less.

He hand grinds corn and soybeans, puts in a little chocolate or powdered milk, and makes a meal of it and says he is satisfied.

Bert can still climb 25 to 30 miles a day through the Great Smoky Mountains. "I prefer simple ways," he says.

To understand Bert you have to know him a bit. He doesn't fit any pigeonhole you know. He never will. If he found out he did, he would change.

Bert has studied at a number of universities across the country. He worked in all kinds of wandering jobs. He spent about a dozen years with the U. S. immigration people. He lives now all alone in a woodland building of his choice. It is a two-room cabin he built 37 years ago. It is in the area where his ancestors arrived some 200 years ago.

Bert is slender, white-haired, widely read, and cheerfully proud that his way of life isn't for the family man.

He has a major criticism of civilization as we know it:

"They're in a rat race, trying to keep up with the Joneses. Sometimes I feel that it is a good thing some people work so hard. Our education system doesn't prepare people for the right kind of leisure. You can work, or you can live. I like to live."

Bert himself, who is interested in such momentous questions as the distribution of snakes in the 50-acre wilderness in which he built his cabin, also knows that to a disciple of nature there can be no spare time.

The woodchuck is his neighbor. At the moment seven skunks live under and out of his cabin.

"We get along fine," he said. "They come out at the whippoorwill's dusk and go back at the whippoorwill's dawn. I tell people I live in Paradise. I do."

Bert has worked in New York and Philadelphia, studied on the West Coast. But either a greatness or weakness in his being has always brought him home to his woodland cabin near the hills of his birth. He figures he has held a job only 20 of his 71 years, and some of those 20 years were wasted.

In an era of creeping inflation the area of his desire enlarges none. The berries along the mountain trail red his palate and his path.

His home has no plumbing, no electric lights, no radio, no television, no telephone. His utility bill (two gallons of kerosene to light his lamps) is 38 cents a year.

"No man raising a family could live as I do," he said, and when asked what was the main virtue of his unusual way of life, he replied: "Freedom."

It's Better than Point Four

By George Sokolsky

It used to be an adage before the human race became too wise for its own good that God helps those who help themselves. The real sin of our aid to other countries is that the aid has been used not to raise the standards of living of all the people but to strengthen governments. It can not be otherwise. In many countries what we used to call graft is a normal characteristic of political operations and this free flow of money from the United States must have encouraged a lot of graft.

At any rate, suddenly a large number of unexplainable rich men have appeared whose prosperity is not readily understood and whose personal conduct is what the French, when they were boot-boys, called parvenu. Some of the new multi-millionaires would have a tough time if their accounts were checked.

The Mormons have produced a different idea. Their missionaries, scattered over the earth, have brought something new into many countries. The missionary doctor is well known and his achievements have been enormous.

No country owes the United States a greater debt than China to which the American medical missionary gave of his heart and his means without stint. The gratitude of the Red Chinese is only another example of the immortality of Marxism wherever it seeds down.

The Mormons have introduced the labor missionary. Their idea is that if a people want better things and better ways of life, they can learn how to "do-it-yourself." So they are sending out missionaries who are carpenters, electricians, masons, plumbers and painters who will show various peoples how to do things for themselves. This, of course, is no new doctrine with the Mormons who build their incredible economic strength by hard work. That is one reason why during the depression, Mormons were not on relief.

So, their labor missionaries go to the Pacific Islands, for instance, not to drop a pile of money which is soon dissipated as Indians found the red beads with which they were robbed, useless. The Mormons get together with the local community and all go to work building, let us say, a school house. Everybody works and when the job is done the local people are proud of their achievement, because they did it. They built it themselves, which means a great deal more to a people than to be given money for what they do not need. In New Zealand, 36 Mormons work with a force of 215 native Maoris in this school building operation. The Maoris will love these schools because they are themselves the builders. They also built homes for families and dormitories for single men.

The details of this project are of no particular interest here because they are typical building operations. What is important is that missionary activity, which has for more than a century been America's most valuable contribution to many countries, has found a new outlet and a new method. The missionaries over a century did an infinitely better job for native peoples than any government has ever done.

It is interesting that this work should be started by the Mormons who regard missionary activity as a normal function of each member of their sect. It is impossible to forecast the extent of this type of activity where the American is not a supervisor or a boss, but one who works himself and shows others how to work and who departing from a place in two or three years, returns to his private concerns, leaving behind a permanent monument of partnership in constructive living, asking nothing in return.

One of the problems of the break-up of the British empire

You're Telling Me

By WILLIAM RITT

There's a hassle among archeologists whether a recently discovered ancient tomb in Turkey is that of King Midas or his papa, King Gordias. We vote for Midas—though the tomb is definitely not junior-size.

Old Gordias was quite a trickster. He tied a thong into such an intricate knot no one could untangle it until Alexander the Great came by and cut to the heart of the matter, with his sword.

King Gordias was quite a boy. He started out as a farm hand but he would up harvesting a crown, as monarch of ancient Phrygia.

However, it was Gordias' boy Midas who hit the jackpot. Even today there are so many legends still told about him that it seems he must have hired Aesop, the No. 1 fable teller, as his press agent.

There's one story that indicates Midas may have been the original Texas oil billionaire. Everything he touched turned to gold.

Midas almost starved to death, since the spell also worked with the food he tried to eat. Have you ever tried to digest a solid-gold hamburger.

The Greek gods, the story goes, took pity on him and put him back on a soft diet. However, it those grave diggers—uncover a plate of ham and eggs made of the stuff we use for wedding rings, you'll know the tomb belonged to Midas and not his old man.

IT'S SO EASY TO PLACE A WANT AD.

Northeast Dairy Picture Studied

WASHINGTON (P)—Persistent dry weather in the northeast is adding a new cost of production problem for dairymen in the area that could force higher consumer milk prices. Many dairymen are finding it necessary to feed higher priced grains and hay.

Agriculture Department officials said the pasture situation is much more favorable in big midwestern dairy producing areas. Any sizeable upward adjustment in milk prices in the East might well widen usual differences between the East and Midwest. This could develop new demands in the Midwest that Eastern milk marketing restrictions be eased to allow producers there to help supply the East.

Anna Taylor, a woman, was the first person ever to go over Niagara Falls in a barrel and survive. This was in 1901.

Youngsters See Their Dad Honored

WASHINGTON (P)—Four big-eyed youngsters Wednesday watched their daddy, Herman J. Schaefer, a railroad switchman of Evansville, Ind., receive the nation's highest award for railroad heroism.

The youngest, 19-month-old Joseph, pointing delightedly at the ornate candelabra that lighted the Interstate Commerce Commission's conference room for the ceremony, is only a little younger than the child whom Schaefer saved from the path of a locomotive in the Evansville rail yards in 1954. Timothy Roberson was 2½ when Schaefer leaped from the locomotive's front platform to brush him to safety.

Water shortage is a major problem in the U. S., says Henry J. Vaux, dean of the School of Forestry, University of California. Increasing use of water in industry and agriculture causes the dilemma.

Curb on Negro Golfers

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (P)—The Fort Lauderdale City Commission has voted over the protest of Mayor John V. Russell to sell the municipally owned golf course for a little over half its appraised value to keep Negroes from using it.

The Fort Lauderdale Men's Golf Assn., organized a year ago to operate the course if it were sold, was successful bidder with an offer of $562,400.

Are We Victims of a "Gimme" Contagion?

In a communication received recently for this column, the writer who sent it suggested a thought that, although not new, appears well worth being repeated. Doubtless he was so plagued with things that came to his notice that he was led to declare "the U.S.A. should be renamed "the Gimme State."

Judging by his statements he had reached the conclusions he was writing about by reason of the fact that he had noticed a lot of his own friends and acquaintances had become stricken with the "Gimme" disease.

"As a matter of fact", he wrote, "I fear I also have become contaminated. I used to think I was a pretty self-reliant fellow but I am beginning to fear that I am falling victim of the virus, or whatever it may be called. I notice that I am beginning to reach out my hand for things, which down deep in my heart I do not rate."

"However", he continued, "I feel that I have some excuse because from morning till night I seem to feel that all I hear is 'gimme this and gimme that, gimme easier work, gimme better profits, gimme shorter hours, gimme higher wages, gimme higher pensions and start them sooner, gimme better crop benefits, gimme more government funds for schools' and an endless stream of other gimmes."

Perhaps this man was a little overwrought, but if we think about it, his exaggeration perhaps wasn't as great as it might seem at first reading.

The writer who sent this went on to say, however, that despite his apparent succumbing to the contagion, he was still against paternalistic, welfare government and concluded with the question "why is it that such a healthy, self reliant people as we formerly were have come to contract such an unhealthy disease as "the Gimmes."

Their managerial skill is not as great as they imagine. The task that many of these countries face is to develop managerial ability and skill not so much in government which is never too good anywhere, but in the ordinary tasks of life, such as building substantial homes and school buildings. Perhaps the most useful education in many of these countries is plumbing, a science about which they generally know nothing.

It seems to me, after a long Asiatic experience that the Mormons have hit on a wonderfully good idea.

Mrs. Arthur Summerfield Noted as Avid Fisherwoman

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Mrs. Arthur Summerfield, wife of the postmaster general, is one of the best-dressed of Washington's official wives, and probably one of the most properly garbed of the nation's fisherwomen as well.

An enthusiastic devotee of the sport, she has ingeniously adapted blue denim coveralls for trout fishing in northern Michigan and a khaki silk costume with long sleeves and button-up collar for fishing in Florida. To avoid too heavy tanning, she always wears a hat and gloves.

"The blue denim coveralls make the nicest little fishing outfits I've ever seen," the attractive cabinet wife told me. "It's nicely fitted, zips up the front, is belted, and has big zippered pockets. Marvellous for gardening too, by the way."

Mrs. Summerfield is sticking out the hot weather in the capital until Congress adjourns, when she can accompany her husband to their Michigan vacation retreat, 4,000-acre Blue Lake Ranch, which they own cooperatively with three other couples, all long-time friends. Each couple owns three rooms fitted up with sleeping bunks in the lodge situated between two lakes, and shares a large lounge and porch.

"It's relaxing and fun to get out in the air and sun," she said. "There's wonderful trout fishing, and we'll have the family with us."

Spending the season with the Summerfields will be their son,

Arthur Jr., and his wife and three children, and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Davison. The Davisons' two young daughters will be at their own girls' camp this year.

The Summerfields are looking forward to the cool peace and quiet after what has been for her husband a hectic go-around with the battle for Post Office appropriations and for both an "extremely busy spring with an unusually large quota of official and social functions."

"We like to see the administration represented at these things and we like to feel we're a part of the community. All of the women I know go to it as they would at home."

"It's really not such a hardship when we enjoy people," Mrs. Summerfield admitted.

Refreshments were served to the guests who were seated at a long table decorated with spring flowers. Mrs. Emerson Carter presided at the punch bowl.

The remainder of the evening was spent in informal visiting and Mrs. Harold Hugas, the new minister's wife, was a special guest.

Mrs. Arthur Summerfield Noted as Avid Fisherwoman

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Arthur Summerfield, wife of the postmaster general, is one of the best-dressed of Washington's official wives, and probably one of the most properly garbed of the nation's fisherwomen as well.

An enthusiastic devotee of the sport, she has ingeniously adapted blue denim coveralls for trout fishing in northern Michigan and a khaki silk costume with long sleeves and button-up collar for fishing in Florida. To avoid too heavy tanning, she always wears a hat and gloves.

"The blue denim coveralls make the nicest little fishing outfits I've ever seen," the attractive cabinet wife told me. "It's nicely fitted, zips up the front, is belted, and has big zippered pockets. Marvellous for gardening too, by the way."

Mrs. Summerfield is sticking out the hot weather in the capital until Congress adjourns, when she can accompany her husband to their Michigan vacation retreat, 4,000-acre Blue Lake Ranch, which they own cooperatively with three other couples, all long-time friends. Each couple owns three rooms fitted up with sleeping bunks in the lodge situated between two lakes, and shares a large lounge and porch.

"It's relaxing and fun to get out in the air and sun," she said. "There's wonderful trout fishing, and we'll have the family with us."

Spending the season with the Summerfields will be their son, Arthur Jr., and his wife and three children, and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Davison. The Davisons' two young daughters will be at their own girls' camp this year.

The Summerfields are looking forward to the cool peace and quiet after what has been for her husband a hectic go-around with the battle for Post Office appropriations and for both an "extremely busy spring with an unusually large quota of official and social functions."

"We like to see the administration represented at these things and we like to feel we're a part of the community. All of the women I know of do it as they would at home."

"It's really not such a hardship when we enjoy people," Mrs. Summerfield admitted.

Series Airing Youthful Trials

'The Seeking Years'
Applauded by Critic

By CHARLES MERCER
AP Radio-TV Critic

NEW YORK (AP)—"Look Up and Live," the excellent CBS-TV public affairs program appearing Sunday mornings (9:30 a. m. EST) is presenting a series, entitled "The Seeking Years", that explores the problems of young men and women on the threshold of maturity.

Last Sunday in "A Thing of Beauty" by Howard Rodman, three young Broadway actresses—Diana Van der Vlis, Sarah Marshall and Bryarley Lee—played superbly the roles of three competitors in a college beauty contest launched by three boys. The girls ranged from the seemingly most beautiful to the seemingly least beautiful.

Staging that marks "Look Up and Live" was ideally suited to thoughtfully playing on the age-play naturally could not ignore the old idea of what constitutes beauty. While this little morality play naturally could not ignore the truth that beauty is of the mind or soul rather than the flesh, it avoided the old cliches far more ably than has many a publicized nighttime TV drama.

Next Sunday "The Seeking Years" will examine juvenile delinquency. The following two Sundays will deal with racial relations between teenagers. It is with regret one hears that some southern television stations have refused to show the last two programs of the series.

Combining the finest artful qualities of the television medium with the sincerity that marks the devout and intelligent of all faiths, "The Seeking Years" brings to the home screen the essence of modern religious thought and emotion.

Man Gets Costly Grass-Cut Notice

BALTIMORE (AP)—Irving A. Kolker, a man who wouldn't cut the grass without a notice from the police, has received his notice—and a $25 fine.

Kolker was given a suspended fine of $15 last year for the same offense—failing to cut and clean the empty lot he owns in north Baltimore.

A neighbor woman said Kolker had promised to cut the lot after last year's trial but said last month he had to have an official notice. He told the same thing to Patrolman Stephen J. Calatta of the sanitation squad, who was glad to oblige.

California Baby Drowns in Tub

SOQUEL, Calif. (AP)—An 18 months old baby drowned in 2½ inches of water Wednesday.

Mrs. Virginia Brown told firemen she left her daughter Janice, in a high chair while she checked a washing machine. When she returned the baby was face down in the bathtub.

Firemen were unable to revive the child.

Rotary Club To Be Visited By District Governor Tuesday

The Washington C. H. Rotary Club is to receive its annual visit from the district governor at its luncheon meeting next Tuesday noon at the Country Club.

William H. Hiestand

The new holder of this district office is William H. Hiestand of Eaton where he is president of the Preble County National Bank in that city.

During his stay here he will meet all the chairmen and officers of the local club and discuss plans for the activities of the year.

During the regular club meeting Tuesday he will speak to the club members and guests on matters pertaining to the future of Rotary.

Gov. Hiestand is a native of Eaton and has been active in civic matters. He attended Miami University at Oxford, is a committee member and past president of the Eaton Community Chest, has served actively in Boy Scout work and is a member of the Miami Valley Area Council.

He is chairman of Group One of the Ohio Bankers' Association and occupies a position on the board of trustees of Miami University.

The new district governor will visit the Williamsburg Club on Monday evening and will come to this city with Mrs. Hiestand after that session to spend Monday night in this city.

Tobacco Output Hiked

WASHINGTON (AP)—Production of burley tobacco in Ohio this year is expected to better last year's output of 15,066,000 pounds, the Agriculture Department announced Wednesday. Estimated production this year is 15,180,000.

Crop Production Expected To Drop

WASHINGTON (AP)—A teamup of bad weather, crop control measures and the soil bank land retirement program promises to cut crop production this year possibly as much as six per cent below last year's record.

An Agriculture Department crop report issued late Wednesday indicated smaller crops than last year for corn, wheat, rice, tobacco, flaxseed, dry beans and dry peas.

But somewhat larger crops were forecast for oats, barley, rye, hay, soybeans, sweet potatoes, sugar cane, sugar beets and hops.

Entire Cop Force Quits Town Jobs

HUBBARDSTOWN, Mass. (AP)—State Police today patrolled this town of 1,162 population after the resignation of the police chief and the entire force of three men left the town without police protection.

Police Chief Howard Taylor and his three patrolmen mailed their resignations to the Board of Selectmen Tuesday.

He said he and the other three police officers resigned because of trouble with "hot-rodgers," drivers of jalopies.

Michigan Inmates May Get Pay Hike

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Michigan prison inmates may get a pay hike soon—their first "since Herbert Hoover's time."

Hillsboro To Sell Old Negro School

HILLSBORO (AP)—The Hillsboro Board of Education will sell the 92-year-old Lincoln school building at auction Aug. 26.

It is the former all-Negro school which figured so prominently in a two-year court fight over whether Negro elementary pupils were being segregated in violation of a U. S. Supreme Court decision. The building has not been used since the 1955-56 term.

Corrections director Gus Harrison told the State Corrections Commission Wednesday that prison pay ranges from five cents a day for unskilled workers to 70 cents a day for skilled labor.

The inmates use the money they earn to buy cigarettes and other personal items. Harrison said 10 prisoners staged a sit-down strike recently to protest a two-cent increase in the state tax on cigarettes.

The commission ordered prison wages reviewed after Harrison told them they "haven't been altered since almost Herbert Hoover's time."

That American delight, the watermelon, really had its beginning in Egypt.

1894 'Flour Fund' Still in Operation

COLUMBUS (AP)—State Auditor James A. Rhodes said today his examiners found the "flour fund" of the village of Yellow Springs in good shape.

The fund dates back to 1894. It was started by Wheeling Gaunt, a former slave, who willed 10 acres to the Greene County village. Reat from the land was to be used to buy flour for widows at Christmas time.

The tract formerly rented for $75 a year. In 1955, the land was converted into a recreation area with swimming pool and other attractions. Under the new arrangement, the pool pays into the widows' fund the same amount formerly received in rept.

Hillsboro To Sell Old Negro School

HILLSBORO (AP)—The Hillsboro Board of Education will sell the 92-year-old Lincoln school building at auction Aug. 26.

It is the former all-Negro school which figured so prominently in a two-year court fight over whether Negro elementary pupils were being segregated in violation of a U. S. Supreme Court decision. The building has not been used since the 1955-56 term.

1894 'Flour Fund' Still in Operation

COLUMBUS (AP)—State Auditor James A. Rhodes said today his examiners found the "flour fund" of the village of Yellow Springs in good shape.

The fund dates back to 1894. It was started by Wheeling Gaunt, a former slave, who willed 10 acres to the Greene County village. Reat from the land was to be used to buy flour for widows at Christmas time.

The tract formerly rented for $75 a year. In 1955, the land was converted into a recreation area with swimming pool and other attractions. Under the new arrangement, the pool pays into the widows' fund the same amount formerly received in rent.

What Causes Inflation as We Know It!

Editor's Note: Many persons have loud opinions on what is causing the rise in the cost of living. Mostly they say it's the fault of the other fellow. But could the cause of inflation be you? In the following article second in a series of three, Sam Dawson, Associated Press business news analyst, discusses the various causes cited for the current problem.

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP) — A Boston homemaker finds that on average beef costs five cents more a pound today than last year. A Seattle man spends more for cigarettes. If you ride the Chicago subway it costs you a quarter today. A month ago you could do it for two dimes.

Most people call that inflation and ask why it came about.

A Kansas City couple who have been saving to put their son through college find that this fall it will cost them more in many schools — maybe more than the sum they saved. They, too, debate what nibbled away the purchasing power of their dollars.

A Richmond doctor may send you a bigger bill today than he did last year for the same service. He explains his expenses are up. How did that happen? A San Francisco man may spend more this fall on his new suit. A couple in Dallas may spend more this year to buy a home — and it's likely to cost them more in interest rates on the mortgage.

Politicians are exchanging angry words about who is doing what to whom. Labor and management are accusing each other — which came first: The wage rise or the price hike?

Bankers say the disease started when money was cheap — that present high interest rates are just what the doctor ordered.

Economists differ as to whether today's rising spiral of wages and prices is breeding new inflation, or is just the after effect of earlier inflation.

A prominent insurance official says the current spiral isn't the cause of inflation but one of the consequences of the inflation born during World War II and the Korean War. In those years the supply of money and credit was increased sharply, and in between the wars the policy of full employment means keeping money easy and credit abundant.

Failure to deflate this supply has generated the wage-price spiral that today pinches everyone in

Toledo Boy, 11, Admits Setting 'Thrill' Fires

TOLEDO (AP) — Police here say an 11-year-old boy has admitted he set three fires within a month—two at his one home and one in his grandfather's shed — for the thrill of seeing firemen arrive. One of the fires caused $10,000 damage and routed 12 persons, including the boy and his family, from their homes. The boy is to appear in juvenile court.

many little ways and adds up to a big bite on the pocketbook.

While the supply of money and credit remains at or near its record high, the money managers in Washington aren't pumping more in now, thus avoiding the classic way of breeding new inflation. To pump money out — that is, to achieve deflation — might lead to a business slump and rising unemployment. Washington isn't prepared to do that either.

Grant that the wartime credit inflation trend has never been seriously reversed, while the demand for new plants and equipment and for skilled labor is at a record high, with many of these capital goods and skills in short or tight supply — and you have one of the aspects of "classic inflation."

But other things are also blamed for the rise in the cost of living. There is the endless circle, wages pushing up prices and prices pushing up wages, which neither management, nor labor seem eager to break so long as boom times and almost full employment continue.

For four million workers, in fact, wages and prices are tied together in the union contracts. Whenever the cost of living index rises, wage scales do, too, automatically, and in time this may hike the cost of living again, and so on. Many workers have automatic annual pay boosts based on the expectation that their productivity will rise each year.

High taxes at the federal level and rising taxes at the state and local levels raise the cost of doing business and put pressure on prices.

Another often cited inflation cause is that the long era of cheap money — and even now it isn't as dear as it was in the 20's — and rising government spending as at present combine to create market conditions in which industry can hike prices and finance higher labor costs and get away with it as far as the consumer goes.

Which brings the search for a cause around to you. Some say that everyone is to blame for this "new type of inflation."

All too many, including the government, have been living beyond their means for several years now, living on debt and credit — counting on tomorrow's good times to bail them out. High prices flower when they count for less than one own desires.

Florida Judge Rules Child May Be Adopted by Couple

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Circuit Judge John W. Prunty has ruled that Hildy McCoy, six-year-old daughter of a Roman Catholic woman may be adopted by a Jewish couple who raised her.

The judge ruled that Hildy is "suitable for adoption" and that Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Ellis, who have had custody of the child since she was 10 days old, are "fit and proper persons to adopt her."

Attorneys for the State of Massachusetts and for Mrs. Marjorie McCoy Doherty, Hildy's Marjorie mother, are expected to appeal the decision to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Ellis, a 45-year-old clothing salesman, and his wife, took Hildy as an infant, allegedly with the consent of her mother. But when they tried to adopt her, they were turned down in Massachusetts courts under a state law which provides for adoptions by persons of the same religious faith in which the child was born.

Rather than comply with court orders to surrender Hildy to Massachusetts welfare authorities, Ellis gave up his business in Brookline, Mass., and fled to Florida.

A kidnapping indictment was returned against the Ellises but Florida's Gov. Leroy Collins refused to send them back to face it.

Judge Prunty said Hildy's best interests will be served by her adoption by the Ellises.

The separation of Hildy from the Ellises, the only parents she ever knew, "might result in irreparable damage to her," the judge said.

The court's ruling was based partly on a promise by Ellis to allow Hildy to choose her own religion when she is older, and partly on a report of the Florida Welfare Board, which recommended the adoption.

Mrs. Doherty is not asking for custody of Hildy but wants her to be put up for adoption by a Catholic home.

Although large numbers of older people migrate to California and Florida, the proportion of older people in both those states is still below the national average of 8.2 percent of the population, says a report of the Twentieth Century Fund.

After all — regardless of year or model — there's nothing like a Buick to set you a cut above the ordinary run of mortals — make you feel master of all you survey.

But listen. As wonderful as your present Buick is — we can name at least six good reasons why you should look into a 1957 Buick now.

Six good reasons why you should try this dream car to drive — today.

3. Zestful New "Nosed" Ride—Take Buick's traditional torque-tube, coil-cushioned ride—cradle it to the lowest center-of-gravity in Buick annals—and brother! You never had it so smooth.

4. Buick's One and Only Safety-Buzzer—What's the safest pace you want to drive at? Whatever it is, turn a dial till that figure appears in a "window." If you exceed that pace, the buzzer tells you. Simple. Thoughtful. A great safety advance.

5. Unique Ball-Joint Handling and New Braking—Your steering is amazingly easy. Your cornering is amazingly deft. Your braking stays on the level. (And Buick's powerful new brakes dig in for straighter, swifter, safer stops!)

Old Soldier Ike Proud of Flag

Army's New Design Accepted at Rites

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, reflecting the pride of an old soldier, Wednesday accepted the Army's new official flag at a White House ceremony.

"As long as there is a single potential enemy on the whole horizon of this country, there must be an army such as ours that has served so proudly in the past and so faithfully today," the former Army chief said in receiving the banner from Secretary of the Army Brucker.

In presenting the new flag, the first to represent the entire Army, Brucker called Eisenhower's attention to 145 streamers affixed to the top of the staff. They represent all of the campaigns in which the Army has engaged since its founding in 1775 — from the Congress in Ft. Ticonderoga to the Korean conflict.

Eisenhower said his acceptance: "I like to think of the battle streamers on that flag — what they have meant in the way of devotion and patriotism, what they mean to our country."

The new flag is made up in the national colors — red, white and blue — with a yellow fringe.

The field is white silk and upon it, embroidered in blue, is the coat of arms of the old War Department. Beneath that seal is a broad scarlet scroll inscribed in white letters, "United States Army." Beneath the scroll there is in blue the year "1775," for creation of the Army and appointment of George Washington as commander in chief. The flag also is inscribed with the Army motto: "This We'll Defend."

Ohio Railroad Aide Asks New Rate Boost

COLUMBUS (AP) — Eugene Root, research chief for the Erie Railroad, has told the Utilities Commission that the railroad needs higher rates to improve its services.

Root was the first witness for the railroad to testify on their request for a 15 per cent boost in freight rates. Earlier this year, the railroad was granted a seven per cent emergency increase and the 15 per cent request is in addition to that increase.

Cry of 'Death'

"... THIS AIKO will be waiting for death," was the word Aiko Azuma Taylor (above) wrote from Okinawa to Mrs. Edith Taylor, 55, in Waltham, Mass. Mrs. Taylor's husband Karl divorced her, married Aiko, a teen-age Japanese girl, when he was a civilian employee on Okinawa. He died of lung cancer, and their two children were taken in by the former wife. Now Aiko wants to go to them, and the Waltham Mrs. Taylor is trying to get U.S. permission. (International)

Capital Puts On Doggy Dog To Benefit Research Dogs

By JANE EALS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some of the doggiest citizens in town are barkers for a "Big Top" benefit their prominent owners are organizing.

There's Breathless Monroey and her sister, Banjo, white west highland terriers, owned by Oklahoma's Sen. Mike Monroey and his wife Mrs. Monroey is treasurer for the July fund-raiser.

A buffet supper followed by Ringling Brothers, Barnum & Bailey Circus Cozy and Nosal, Labrador retrievers, are also assisting their mistress, Mrs. Lewis S. Thompson, wife of the deputy assistant secretary of the Air Force. Mrs. Thompson took over as chairman of the benefit committee when Mrs. David K. E. Bruce left for Bonn with her husband, new U.S. Ambassador to Germany.

These four legged notables were guests along with their mistresses at a planning picnic at the country place of columnist and Mrs. Drew Pearson, whose elegant black French poodle, Roberta and friendly hound dog, Linda also were in the receiving line. Among other doggy guests was Oscar Ryan, long-hair dachshund, who came with his chic owner, Mrs. St. George Ryan, daughter of Rep. Katharine St. George (R-NY).

The circus party is the latest of a number of money-raising shindigs given by the group of laymen and doctors dedicated to the "Welfare of Animals Used for Research in Drugs and Surgery" and known as WARDS. Formed as a pilot project about three years ago, the group already has raised $20,000 through benefits and private donations. This matched with federal funds, will be used to make model quarters at the Georgetown University Medical School for dogs used in research. Forty inside kennels will connect with large outside runs, giving dogs access at all times to fresh air and exercise.

"The condition of the laboratory kennels can make the difference between failure and success in many research programs," says Mrs. Thompson. "Dogs and laboratory animals enact a key role in the drama of cancer research and other medical experiments. A healthy dog is a vital link in any research system."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Board has announced its denial of an application by North Central Airlines to acquire Lake Central Airlines.

The board said the acquisition, agreed to between the companies in 1952, and the merger of their routes, would "create a local service system of unprecedented size" and a tendency to concentrate on duty on long-haul traffic.

People . . . Places . . . and Things

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

Work of remodeling the old C&M Railroad passenger station here for a bus station, causes interest to center on the railroad which used the passenger station for nearly 80 years before passenger trains were withdrawn and the station abandoned.

Incidentally for years after it was abandoned Henry Brownell used the station for his poultry business.

When the Cincinnati, Wilmington and Zanesville Railroad was built from Zanesville to Morrow in 1852, or 105 years ago, much of the iron and steel in the road was imported from Sweden.

This steel was purchased by Judge Daniel McLean, who was one of the outstanding figures of his day in this part of Ohio. He made several trips east to buy the imported steel rails, which were not over 60 pounds to the yard.

It was largely through the efforts of Judge McLean that the newly conceived railroad ever was built, due to his plans for building the first railroad in this part of Ohio.

During the session of the Ohio Legislature in 1849-50, a bill was introduced by Senator Linton of this district, authorizing a charter for a railroad to be built from Zanesville to Cincinnati, by way of Wilmington.

Those from Wilmington backing the proposal refused to include the name Washington C. H. in the charter.

Judge McLean was employed, went to Columbus, and brought about the change to include Washington C. H.

The company was organized and Judge McLean was one of the directors.

Fayette County commissioners on July 12, 1851, adopted a resolution subscribing $100,000 to the cost of the road.

The question arose as to whether bonds could be issued on the railroad before it was constructed, and Clinton County commissioners refused to sign the bonds.

Meanwhile, the contractor, a man by the name of DeGraff, demanded some assurance that the money would be forthcoming at the proper time before he would begin operations. He was fully assured, and it was Judge McLean who made several trips east to buy the Swedish steel.

As the road stopped at Morrow, receipts were insufficient to pay expense of operations. The road went through various hands until in 1881 it was operated and controlled by The Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and St. Louis Railroad Co.

Later it was the C&M, the C&C, and then the Pennsylvania took it over.

"CAB, MISTER, CAB"

Before the automobiles had rendered horse-drawn cabs obsolete, Al Nolan and Walter Clark were two of the well known cab drivers in the city, who "made" the various railroad stations for every train, to take passengers to and from the hotels and to and from their homes.

I knew them both very well, and have ridden in their cabs, as they slapped the lines across the horses and encouraged them to move faster by some "gid-ups" at frequent intervals. They rarely used the whip, unless it was necessary to coax the horses out of their lazy trot in order to make a train.

I can see Walter yet as he hurried about when the trains pulled in, reaching for baggage to assist his passengers, and respectfully calling "Cab! cab!" "Want a cab, lady (or mister)?"

Their cabs were not fancy, and usually were nothing more than carriages. Although as I recall, Walter finally picked up, or was furnished with, a real cab with doors.

In those days it was not uncommon to see dozens of people board trains and other dozens get off as they pulled into the stations, although there were as many as 24 trains a day during that time.

However, few automobiles were in use and bus lines had never been dreamed of; so, travel by train, even between Washington C. H. and some of the nearby points, was heavy.

MORE ARTESIAN WELLS

Artesian wells, or wells that flow out of the top, are found in various parts of the county. They have been struck at depths varying from 20 feet to 100 feet or more.

One of the most notable of the flowing wells is on the former Stewart School House property on U. S. Route 22, east 2 1/2 miles from Washington C. H. In 30 years, it has rarely ceased flowing even in drought periods.

Two artesian wells are located on the George A. Garringer farm, near the Fayette-Greene County line, on Route 734. One is on the Carl Fent farm adjacent.

The vein of water which flowed from the top of the wells was struck 105 to 106 feet down, in the bedrock. The bedrock on the former Lud Sheley farm owned by Garringer, was struck at 41 feet; on his home farm bedrock was encountered at 28 feet.

A "gravel well" in the community, provided abundance of water after being drilled to 55 feet. There the well struck a thick layer of gravel, which would indicate the spot was formerly a pre-glacial stream bed.

Voter Since 1896 Gets Citizenship

CHICAGO (AP)—William C. Marchant, 85, who cast his first ballot in a presidential election for William Jennings Bryan in 1896, is now a United States citizen.

Marchant, it was disclosed, voted in many other elections until 1940 when he learned he was not a citizen. He had believed that service in the Illinois National Guard from 1890 to 1893 made him a citizen.

His parents had brought him to Chicago from London as a child in 1879 but his father neglected to have the family naturalized.

Young Cuban Designer Likes Long-Stem American Beauty

Editor's Note: Following is the fourth in a series of five articles on the fall fashion show this week in New York.

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor
NEW YORK (AP)—Luis Estevez, the young Cuban designer who has skyrocketed to a top place in the American couture, believes in the long-stemmed American beauty, and takes her as the theme of his fall and winter collection, shown today to the visiting fashion press.

American beauty roses bloom throughout the collection, ranging from one perfect rose as an accent to a simple dinner dress to a whole riot of blossoms on a cut velvet evening gown.

Next to roses, hemlines are the Estevez enthusiasm this fall, and they are infinitely varied to give seductive impact to a glimpse of a well-turned knee, revealed in an evening gown sweeping the floor in back, cut daringly high in front. With these up-in-front hemlines, Estevez models wear dyed-to-match shoes and stockings, emphasizing the one-color look so prominent in fall fashions.

Another variation of the hemline is seen in short evening gowns with floor-length side panels, and by set-in godets giving a rippling back effect on cocktail size buckles. Others have deep cowl-back necklines.

There are side-wrapped skirts with dipped back and cut away front hemlines, in tailored wool daytime dresses and suits, as well as in satin cocktail gowns.

Estevez also is interested in daring necklines, and slashes them to the waist, front or back, in after-dark dresses. When the slash is in front the dress has a built-in bra. Some dresses have nude midrifts accented by king-

People... Places... and Things
Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY
Work of remodeling the old C&MV Railroad passenger station here for a bus station, causes interest to center on the railroad which used the passenger station for nearly 80 years before passenger trains were withdrawn and the station abandoned.

Incidentally for years after it was abandoned Henry Brownell used the station for his poultry business.

When the Cincinnati, Wilmington and Zanesville Railroad was built from Zanesville to Morrow in 1852, or 105 years ago, much of the iron and steel in the road was imported from Sweden.

This steel was purchased by Judge Daniel McLean, who was one of the outstanding figures of his day in this part of Ohio. He made several trips east to buy the imported steel rails, which were not over 60 pounds to the yard.

It was largely through the efforts of Judge McLean that the newly conceived railroad ever was built, due to his plans for building the first railroad in this part of Ohio.

During the session of the Ohio Legislature in 1849-50, a bill was introduced by Senator Linton of this district, authorizing a charter for a railroad to be built from Zanesville to Cincinnati, by way of Wilmington.

Those from Wilmington backing the proposal refused to include the name Washington C. H. in the charter.

Judge McLean was employed, went to Columbus, and brought about the change to include Washington C. H.

The company was organized and Judge McLean was one of the directors.

Fayette County commissioners on July 12, 1851, adopted a resolution subscribing $100,000 to the cost of the road.

The question arose as to whether bonds could be issued on the railroad before it was constructed, and Clinton County commissioners refused to sign the bonds.

Meanwhile, the contractor, a man by the name of DeGraff demanded some assurance that the money would be forthcoming at the proper time before he would begin operations. He was fully assured, and it was Judge McLean who made several trips east to buy the Swedish steel.

As the road stopped at Morrow, receipts were insufficient to pay expense of operations. The road went through various hands until in 1881 it was operated and controlled by The Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and St. Louis Railroad Co.

Later it was the C&MV, the CA&C, and then the Pennsylvania took it over.

"CAB, MISTER, CAB"
Before the automobiles had rendered horse-drawn cabs obsolete, Al Nolan and Walter Clark were two of the well known cab drivers in the city, who "made" the various railroad stations for every train, to take passengers to and from the hotels and to and from their homes.

I knew them both very well, and have ridden in their cabs, as they slapped the lines across the horses and encouraged them to move faster by some "gid-ups" at frequent intervals. They rarely used the whip, unless it was necessary to coax the horses out of their lazy trot in order to make a train.

I can see Walter yet as he hurried about when the trains pulled in, reaching for baggage to assist his passengers, and respectfully calling "Cab! cab!" "Want a cab, lady (or mister)?"

Their cabs were not fancy, and usually were nothing more than carriages. Although as I recall, Walter finally picked up, or was furnished with, a real cab with doors.

In those days it was not uncommon to see dozens of people board trains and other dozens get off as they pulled into the stations, although there were as many as 24 trains a day during that time.

However, few automobiles were in use and bus lines had never been dreamed of; so, travel by train, even between Washington C. H. and some of the nearby points, was heavy.

MORE ARTESIAN WELLS
Artesian wells, or wells that flow out of the top, are found in various parts of the county. They have been struck at depths varying from 20 feet to 100 feet or more.

One of the most notable of the flowing wells is on the former Stewart School House property on U. S. Route 22, east, 2 1/2 miles from Washington C. H. In 30 years, it has rarely ceased flowing even in drought periods.

Two artesian wells are located on the George A. Garringer farm, near the Fayette-Greene County line, on Route 734. One is on the Carl Fent farm adjacent.

The vein of water, which flowed from the top of the wells was struck 105 to 106 feet down, in the bed-

Young Cuban Designer Likes Long-Stem American Beauty

Editor's Note: Following is the fourth in a series of five articles on the fall fashion show this week in New York.

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor
NEW YORK (AP)—Luis Estevez, the young Cuban designer who has skyrocketed to a top place in the American couture, believes in the long-stemmed American beauty, and takes her as the theme of his fall and winter collection, shown today to the visiting fashion press.

American beauty roses bloom throughout the collection, ranging from one perfect rose as an accent to a simple dinner dress to a whole riot of blossoms on a cut-velvet evening gown.

Next to roses, hemlines are the Estevez enthusiasm this fall, and they are infinitely varied to give seductive impact to a glimpse of a well-turned knee, revealed in an evening gown sweeping the floor in back, cut daringly high in front. With these up-in-front hemlines, Estevez models wear dyed-to-match shoes and stockings, emphasizing the one-color look so prominent in fall fashions.

Another variation of the hemline is seen in short evening gowns with floor-length side panels, and by set-in godets giving a rippling back effect on cocktail dresses.

There are side-wrapped skirts with dipped back and cut away front hemlines, in tailored wool daytime dresses and suits, as well as in satin cocktail gowns.

Estevez also is interested in daring necklines, and slashes them to the waist, front or back, in after-dark dresses. When the slash is in front the dress has a built-in bra. Some dresses have nude midriffs accented by king-size buckles. Others have deep cowl-back necklines.

Police OK Gunfight

Chief O. D. Garton cleared weapons for use in the city-owned Mosque Theatre. He did — and the Indians and settlers banged a way with usually taboo cap pistols.

Voter Since 1896 Gets Citizenship

CHICAGO (AP)—William C. Marchant, 85, who cast his first ballot in a presidential election for William Jennings Bryan in 1896, is now a United States citizen.

Marchant, it was disclosed, voted in many other elections until 1940 when he learned he was not a citizen. He had believed that service in the Illinois National Guard from 1890 to 1893 made him a citizen.

His parents had brought him to Chicago from London as a child in 1879 but his father neglected to have the family naturalized.

Pakistanian Chieftain Arrives for U. S. Visit

WASHINGTON (AP)—Prime Minister Suhrawardy of Pakistan arrived Wednesday for an official visit with President Eisenhower.

The Pakistan leader, an outspoken foe of neutralism and communism in Asia, was accorded a 19-gun salute and full military honors upon his arrival.

Eisenhower's personal plane Columbine III brought him here from New York.

Third Dance Friday Night At Park Here

That all-purpose court in the community park is hardly getting a chance to cool off, day or night, now.

Basketball teams are now being formed from a group of high school youths and young men in their late teens and early twenties.

During the early stages of the organization processes, practice games are going on nearly all the time. And, in between practices, other youngsters swarm on to the court to scramble for the ball and shoot for the baskets.

Fred Domenico, recreation program director, said Thursday that the basketball teams probably would be formed and ready to go into either a regular schedule of games or start a tournament.

Come night, and the lights are turned on and the activities continue.

Friday night, the third of the series of 30-50 dances will be held. The Beta Sigma Phi sorority will sponsor this one.

The Lioness club sponsored the first one and the Holy Name Society the second. One dance was rained out.

Sponsorship merely involves underwriting the expenses, but the sponsors have the privilege of setting up a concession stand to cover at least part of the obligation.

The dances, Domenico emphasized, are for everyone, regardless of age. At the first two, the crown ranged all the way from boys and girls in elementary schools to parents.

Midwestern Farm Employment Drops

WASHINGTON (AP)—The decline in farm employment that has been taking place for years in mechanized agriculture is about 8 per cent in the Midwest.

There has been a much sharper decline in family workers than in hired workers. The drop in the former has been about 9.6 per cent from the 1952-56 average and only about 1.7 per cent for hired workers.

Highest farm wages are being paid at this time in Washington, Oregon, California, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut. They average about $1.10 an hour.

Ohioans Given OK To File Claim

WASHINGTON (AP)—A presidential order has cleared the way for an Ohio couple to file claims for money they say is due them because of the death of their son. He was reported missing in action May 10, 1943, in Sicily.

President Eisenhower signed a bill waiving statutes of limitation for Frank J. and Mae T. W. Burger of Hamilton.

Their son, 1st Lt. George B. Burger, was officially listed dead May 11, 1944.

The parents' claims for benefits had been disallowed because more than a year had elapsed before they were filed.

Speeder Arrested On Way to Trial

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Charles Sash, 32, was charged with speeding Wednesday.

He was hurrying to Municipal Court for a hearing on a speeding charge.

He was fined $25 for the first violation and will be tried later on Wednesday's charge.

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP)—John E. David took police to the cleaners—looking for his pants.

David mistakenly left $619.60 in the pants' pocket. Officers found the money hidden in a boiler room of the cleaning plant.

Police, all steamed up, are ready to press charges against the culprit who stashed the money away.

Fire Watcher Gets Blaze of His Own

BALTIMORE (AP)—A fire lured a Gay Street merchant from his store Wednesday and a fire brought him right back again.

The cause of his quick return, accompanied by firemen, was a cigarette he left burning on a counter—when he ran outside to watch a fire a block away.

DON'T BUY ANY CAR BEFORE YOU DRIVE A CHEVY... ITS BEST SHOWROOM IS THE ROAD.

Beauty in motion—Chevrolet Bel Air Sport Sedan with Body by Fisher.

Here's why Chevy's best showroom is the road!

Because Chevrolet's sleek good looks, its advanced features, are only part of the story. The big bonus is its remarkable roadability, the crisp precision handling that has posted an entirely new standard for cars in every price class. There are reasons for this, of course: Chevrolet's balanced weight distribution that takes excessive loads off the front wheels, the wide stance of outrigger rear springs, Ball-Race steering, spherical-joint front suspension. Sure, you can admire the sculptured lines in the showroom. But Chevy's a car specifically designed for beautiful motion—you have to travel in this one to know just how terrific it is. Try it, this week!

SANDUSKY (Pa.) — Defending champion Anne Richardson of Columbus faces a former champion today in the quarter finals of the Ohio Women's golf tourney.

And if Miss Richardson can get past Carol Dinger of Tiffin, she will move into the 18-hole semifinals. Friday's finals will be over 36 holes.

Leading the lower bracket, Betty Kerby of Akron, co-medalist of the tournament, is matched for the quarter-finals with Mrs. J. W. Labisky of Columbus.

Girl Catcher Fatally Injured in Ball Game

PORTSMOUTH (Pa.) — A 10-year-old Portsmouth girl died in General Hospital here Wednesday of a skull fracture suffered when she was hit by a bat while playing baseball.

The girl, Claudette Castle, was serving as catcher when struck over the right eye, police said.

He was 14-0 that season for the last-place Bucs, with a 9-5 mark against the first division, while finishing with a 2.84 ERA.

At the moment, Purkey is 9-7 and leads the league with a 2.70 ERA, gaining his second victory over Milwaukee 5-2 Wednesday night. It was the only game scheduled in either league.

Purkey stopped the Braves with a six-hitter, striking out seven and walking two. A single by Red Schoendienst came ahead of Ed Mathews' 18th home run in the first inning, but Purkey then kept the Braves in check while the Pirates battled back against Bob Buhl. Bob Skinner hit a two-run homer and Gene Baker bagged it with a three-run single.

Purkey, a Pittsburgh kid who spent most of last season in the minors after wrenching a knee in spring training, has picked up seven of his 1957 victories against the NL's five-team first division. He's beaten Brooklyn three times, Cincinnati twice. Only St. Louis has given him trouble, beating him twice in two decisions.

The Pirates, headed Buhl his fifth defeat in 14 decision when a walk, Dick Groat's single and an error by Frank Torre loaded the bases with two out in the sixth. With the runners on the move, Baker then lined a 3-2 pitch through short to junk a 2-2 tie.

Buhl now has lost three in a row, after winning five straight.

The Cardinals, who have been their best on the road (26-11) and especially in the east (17-6), opened a 13-game swing through the east today at New York against the sixth place Giants. Lindy McDaniel, 8-4 for the season and 2-0 against the Giants, was the Card probable against either Johnny Antonelli (7-7) or Ruben Gomez (10-7).

Third place Philadelphia, 3½ games back and only three percentage points ahead of Cincinnati, resumes play after the All-Star game break at home to the Chicago Cubs in a two-nighter. It's Harvey Haddix (7-5) and Curt Simmons (8-4), the All-Star loser, against Bob Rush (1-7) and Don Elston (2-0).

Cincinnati is at Brooklyn with Brooks Lawrence (9-5) going against young Danny McDevitt (3-1) for the fifth-place Brooks.

In the American, first place New York takes its 2½-game lead to Kansas City, winless against the Yankees in 11 meetings this year. Former Yank Ralph Terry (3-3) is the A's probable against Bob Turley (4-2) tonight.

Chicago's second place White Sox send Bob Keegan (4-3) against the Washington Senators and Pete Ramos (6-6). Fourth place Cleveland has a two-night pair with Baltimore and it's Ray Narleski (5-1) and Bob Lemon (5-7) for the Indians against Ray Moore (5-5) and Billy O'Dell (1-2).

Third place Boston pitched Mike Fomies (5-8) against Detroit and Frank Lary (4-11) in an afternoon game with the Tigers.

Girl Catcher Fatally Injured in Ball Game

PORTSMOUTH (AP) — A 10-year-old Portsmouth girl died in General Hospital here Wednesday of a skull fracture suffered when she was hit by a bat while playing baseball.

The girl, Claudette Castle, was serving as catcher when struck over the right eye, police said.

He was 14-0 that season for the last-place Bucs, with a 9-5 mark against the first division, while finishing with a 2.84 ERA.

At the moment, Purkey is 9-7 and leads the league with a 2.70 ERA, gaining his second victory over Milwaukee 5-2 Wednesday night. It was the only game scheduled in either league.

Purkey stopped the Braves with a six-hitter, striking out seven and walking two. A single by Red Schoendienst came ahead of Ed Mathews' 18th home run in the first inning, but Purkey then kept the Braves in check while the Pirates battled back against Bob Buhl. Bob Skinner hit a two-run homer and Gene Baker bagged it with a three-run single.

Purkey, a Pittsburgh kid who spent most of last season in the minors after wrenching a knee in spring training, has picked up seven of his 1957 victories against the NL's five-team first division.

He's beaten Brooklyn three times, Cincinnati twice. Only St. Louis has given him trouble, beating him twice in two decisions.

The Pirates, handed Buhl his fifth defeat in 14 decisions when a walk, Dick Groat's single and an error by Frank Torre loaded the bases with two out in the sixth. With the runners on the move, Baker then lined a 3-2 pitch through short to junk a 2-2 tie.

Buhl now has lost three in a row, after winning five straight. The Cardinals, who have been their best on the road (26-11) and especially in the east (17-6), opened a 13-game swing through the east today at New York against the sixth place Giants.

Lindy McDaniel, 8-4 for the season and 2-0 against the Giants, was the Card probable against either Johnny Antonelli (7-7) or Ruben Gomez (10-7).

Third place Philadelphia, 3½ games back and only three percentage points ahead of Cincinnati, resumes play after the All-Star game break at home to the Chicago Cubs in a two-nighter. It's Harvey Haddix (7-5) and Curt Simmons (8-4), the All-Star loser, against Bob Rush (1-7) and Don Elston (2-0).

Cincinnati is at Brooklyn with Brooks Lawrence (9-5) going against young Danny McDevitt (3-1) for the fifth-place Brooks.

In the American, first place New York takes its 2½-game lead to Kansas City, winless against the Yankees in 11 meetings this year. Former Yank Ralph Terry (3-3) is the A's probable against Bob Turley (4-2) tonight.

Match Play Round Sparks Ohio Amateur

64 Simon-Purse Vie
For Honors Today; 16
Final Positions Sought

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (P)—The 51st Ohio Amateur golf championship moved into the man-to-man combat stage today with two match play rounds scheduled over the Springfield Country Club course.

Sixty-four of the state's finest simon-purses won their way into the match-play bracket in the 36-hole qualifier concluded Wednesday, but the starting field of 186 will be trimmed to 16 by sunset.

Robert Davis, 30-year-old Cincinnati, won the qualifying medal honors with a score of 142, two under par for the 6,545 yard, par-72 course.

Davis had a one-stroke edge over Bob Shave Jr. of Cleveland runnerup for last year's amateur title.

Only a few of the big name golfers fell by the wayside in the 36-hole test. Among them were John Florio and Barney Hunt of Columbus, Larry Snyder of Athens and Ed Koski of Steubenville.

Hunt is a former state Public Links champion. Florio won the Amateur in 1929 and 1932. Snyder is the present state Junior champion and Koski has triumphed in the National Polish tournament.

Four former champions landed among the select 64 with Earl Preiser of Cleveland, the 1946 winner, due to meet Davis in today's first match.

Francis Card of Columbus, the 1952 winner, meets Dave Daniels of Columbus in the opening rounds. Daniels won the 1955 Public Links championship.

Tom Jones, Youngstown redhead who won in 1951, and Bob Rankin of Zanesville, 1955 victor, also were in the fight along with such stars as Bob Roll of Greenville and Gene Card of Columbus, former Junior champions; Jackie Nicklaus, Columbus teenager who holds the state Open title, and Jack Zimmerman of Dayton, two-time winner of the state Public Links championship.

The qualifier was marked by a merry mixup. Nine players tied at 156 and had to play off for five qualifying berths. The tournament committee miscounted the number of low scores and announced that only four vacancies were to be filled.

On the first playoff hole, four of the players scored pars and were awarded the match play positions as the other five went over par. Later it was discovered that an extra qualifier was needed to fill out the championship bracket and the five were called back to the tee to play another hole.

Paul Tulga of Columbus, a Public Links player, had left the course, however, and was unable to take a second try. The final spot went to Roddy Myers of Springfield, a high school student, on the third hole.

Of the original 18 Public Links players, five reached the match play bracket, with Zimmerman leading the contingent with a score of 149. Four public linksters were among the nine tied at 156, but only Al Solanics of Cleveland was able to win one of the five positions.

The field plays another double round of 18-hole match play tomorrow, after which the four survivors will meet in the 36-hole semi-final Saturday. Sunday's championship event will also be at 36 holes.

Skidding Kernels Drubbed by Cowboys

The Cowboys drubbed the skidding Kernels at Wilson Field Wednesday evening, 17-8, in a Little League game.

Mike Molloy, pitching for the Cowboys held the Kernels at bay for two frames, but weakened in the last three when they go to him for their total.

On the other hand, the Cowboys scored in every inning, with a big 8-run spree in the fourth.

Steven Flee homered for the victorious Cowboys and Joe Burnett belted a roundtripper for the losers. Michael Wright, Flee and Tim Becker also got three hits for the Cowboys as did Gary Thompson and Richard Schluwe for the Kernels.

Schlue and Jerry Warner shared the pitching duties for the Kernels. In tonight's heavy action at Wilson Field, the Kernels and the Jets will play off their tie game of first round action, and the Cubs and the Flashes will play their second round game afterwards.

Nebraska Pitcher Sets League Record

KEARNEY, Neb. (P)—Len Biles of the Kearney Nebraska State League baseball club, set a league record Wednesday night when he struck out 21 batters and took part in 24 of the 27 putouts his team made in a 9 to 4 win over North Platte.

Golfer Is Denied Damages in Injury

PHILADELPHIA (P)—A Federal court here has ruled that a golfer who lost his right eye when he was hit by a ball on the course was guilty of negligence.

William V. Boynton Jr., Milford, Conn., a student at the University of Pennsylvania, had sued Gordon Ryan of Paoli, Pa., for $50,000 after his right eye was removed as a result of the accident.

Judge Allan K. Grim denied Boynton damages and ruled that he was guilty of negligence when he signalled Ryan to play through then stepped to the left of the fair way where he was hit. The accident happened May 4, 1955.

Dr. Herman J. Carr, Arlington Park physician, said Hartack might be able to resume riding "in a week or so" if the X-rays show no broken bones.

However, if there is a fractured vertebra, Carr added, Hartack would be sidelined for "about four months." This would cost him his chance to break Eddie Arcaro's 1952 national record of winning 40 stakes races. Hartack has won 27 stakes this year worth $922,840.

The 24-year-old leading rider of 1955 and 1956 and currently out in front by a wide margin was thrown heavily to the ground Wednesday in the first race at Arlington Park.

His mount, Reverie Knoll Farm's juvenile colt Smoke-Me-Now, turned a complete somersault after running up the heels of the tiring Spy Boss.

Hartack was thrown to the outside near the stretch turn and missed being struck by several horses. His mount scrambled to his feet uninjured and finished the race riderless.

Realtors and Cubs Tied as Game Ends

The Realtors allied for six runs in the fifth inning at Wilson Field Wednesday evening to gain a Little League game tie with the Cubs at 8-11.

Paul Shaltry after pitching three perfect frames apparently weakened in the later innings and was victimized by the 6-run fifth.

The tie will be played off at a later date, probably as the first game of a twin bill.

2 Rival Clubs To Promote Bout

LOS ANGELES (P)—Two rival fight clubs have joined forces to co-promote a 15-round light heavyweight title bout between champion Archie Moore and Tony Anthony on Sept. 11.

It will be the first time in 22 years that the Olympic Auditorium of Los Angeles and the Hollywood Legion Stadium have gone in together on such a promotion.

The proposed site for the nationally televised fight is Gilmore Field in Hollywood.

The unique situation developed Wednesday when singer Frank Sinatra and his associates withdrew as the proposed promoters.

Match Play Round Sparks Ohio Amateur

64 Simon-Purse Vie
For Honors Today; 16
Final Positions Sought

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—The 51st Ohio Amateur golf championship moved into the man-to-man combat stage today with two match play rounds scheduled over the Springfield Country Club course.

Sixty-four of the state's finest simon-purses won their way into the match-play bracket in the 36-hole qualifier concluded Wednesday, but the starting field of 186 will be trimmed to 16 by sunset.

Robert Davis, 30-year-old Cincinnati, won the qualifying medal honors with a score of 142, two under par for the 6,545 yard, par-72 course.

Davis had a one-stroke edge over Bob Shave Jr. of Cleveland runnerup for last year's amateur title.

Only a few of the big name golfers fell by the wayside in the 36-hole test. Among them were John Florio and Barney Hunt of Columbus, Larry Snyder of Athens and Ed Koski of Steubenville.

Hunt is a former state Public Links champion. Florio won the Amateur in 1929 and 1932. Snyder is the present state Junior champion and Koski has triumphed in the National Polish tournament.

Four former champions landed among the select 64 with Ed Preisler of Cleveland, the 1946 winner, due to meet Davis in today's first match.

Francis Card of Columbus, the 1952 winner, meets Dave Daniels of Columbus in the opening round. Daniels won the 1955 Public Links championship.

Tom Jones, Youngstown redhead who won in 1951, and Bob Rankin of Zanesville, 1955 victor, also were in the fight along with such stars as Bob Roll of Greenville and Gene Card of Columbus, former Junior champions; Jackie Nicklaus, Columbus teenager who holds the state Open title, and Jack Zimmerman of Dayton, two-time winner of the state Public Links championship.

The qualifier was marked by a merry mixup. Nine players tied at 156 and had to play off for five qualifying berths. The tournament committee miscounted the number of low scores and announced that only four vacancies were to be filled.

On the first playoff hole, four of the players scored pars and were awarded the match play positions as the other five went over par. Later it was discovered that an extra qualifier was needed to fill out the championship bracket and the five were called back to the tee to play another hole.

Paul Tulga of Columbus, a Public Links player, had left the course, however, and was unable to take a second try. The final spot went to Roddy Myers of Springfield, a high school student, on the third hole.

Of the original 18 Public Links players, five reached the match play bracket, with Zimmerman leading the contingent with a score of 149. Four public linksters were among the nine tied at 156, but only Al Solanics of Cleveland was able to win one of the five positions.

The field plays another double round of 18-hole match play tomorrow, after which the four survivors will meet in the 36-hole semi-final Saturday. Sunday's championship event will also be at 36 holes.

Skidding Kernels Drubbed by Cowboys

The Cowboys drubbed the skidding Kernels at Wilson Field Wednesday evening, 17-8, in a Little League game.

Mike Molloy, pitching for the Cowboys held the Kernels at bay for two frames, but weakened in the last three when they go to him for their total.

On the other hand, the Cowboys scored in every inning, with a big 8-run spree in the fourth.

Steven Flee homered for the victorious Cowboys and Joe Burnett belted a roundtripper for the losers. Michael Wright, Flee and Tim Bessecker also got three hits for the Cowboys as did Gary Thompson and Richard Schlue for the Kernels.

Schlue and Jerry Warner shared the pitching duties for the Kernels. In tonight's heavy action at Wilson Field, the Kernels and the Jets will play off their tie game of first round action, and the Cubs and the Flashes will play their second round game afterwards.

Nebraska Pitcher Sets League Record

KEARNEY, Neb. (AP)—Len Biles of the Kearney Nebraska State League baseball club, set a league record Wednesday night when he struck out 21 batters and took part in 24 of the 27 putouts his team made in a 9 to 4 win over North Platte.

Top Jockey Injured in Colorful Spill

CHICAGO (AP)—Willie Hartack, the nation's top jockey, was out of action today with injuries suffered in a spectacular spill but new X-rays will be needed to determine how seriously he is hurt.

Dr. Herman J. Carr, Arlington Park physician, said Hartack might be able to resume riding "in a week or so" if the X-rays show no broken bones.

However, if there is a fractured vertebra, Carr added, Hartack would be sidelined for "about four months." This would cost him his chance to break Eddie Arcaro's 1952 national record of winning 40 stakes races. Hartack has won 27 stakes this year worth $922,840.

The 24-year-old leading rider of 1955 and 1956 and currently out in front by a wide margin was thrown heavily to the ground Wednesday in the first race at Arlington Park.

His mount, Reverie Knoll Farm's juvenile colt Smoke-Me-Now, turned a complete somersault after running up the heels of the tiring Spy Boss.

Hartack was thrown to the outside near the stretch turn and missed being struck by several horses. His mount scrambled to his feet uninjured and finished the race riderless.

Golfer Is Denied Damages in Injury

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A Federal court here has ruled that a golfer who lost his right eye when he was hit by a ball on the course was guilty of negligence.

William V. Boynton Jr., Milford, Conn., a student at the University of Pennsylvania, had sued Gordon Ryan of Paoli, Pa., for $50,000 after his right eye was removed as a result of the accident.

Judge Allan K. Grim denied Boynton damages and ruled that he was guilty of negligence when he signalled Ryan to play through then stepped to the left of the fairway where he was hit. The accident happened May 4, 1955.

Medics Go on Spree To Beat Good Hope

In a Babe Ruth game here Wednesday evening, the Medics trounced the last place Good Hope nine, 12-5.

The Medics tallied 12 times in 14 hits and made no errors and the Good Hopers scored five runs on six hits and made four errors.

Leading a Medic blast were Loren Powell, 4 for 4, and Dave Reno, and Eddie Lee, each with 3 for 3.

Good Hope scored four of its five runs in the fifth when Ernie Herman, Medic hurler, lost his touch momentarily and walked three batters.

Medics: Herman and Tracey. Good Hope: Frock and Strouth. Double—Lee, Powell (Medic); a Strouth (Good Hope). Triple—Lee, 2 (Medics).

Frankfurters once were sold on the streets of St. Louis without rolls, but a pair of white gloves were supplied to keep from soiling the hands. Rolls, or rather the frankfurter buns, were added to save the expense of white gloves.

Mrs. Frank Dawson and Mrs. Shaw tied for the low net score (gross minus handicap) with 36 apiece and Mrs. Charles Griffiths Mrs. Robert Link and Mrs. Wead were deadlocked for a second place with 40 each.

Mrs. Coffman took the putting honors with 14 strokes on the nine greens. Mrs. C. G. Hayes and Mrs. Ed Vollette each took 14 and Mrs. Harry Townsend and Mrs. Robert Hagerty each had 15.

Realtors and Cubs Tied as Game Ends

The Realtors rallied for six runs in the fifth inning at Wilson Field Wednesday evening to gain a Little League game tie with the Cubs at 8-all.

Paul Shaltry after pitching three perfect frames apparently weakened in the later innings and was victimized by the 6-run fifth.

The tie will be played off at a later date, probably as the first game of a twin bill.

Robert Goldsberry and Pat Preston hit back to back homers for the Mains and Preston had two for the game. Randy Dillard also cracked a home run for the winners.

Charles Conger and David Shoults shared the pitching chores for the league-leading Mains while Freddie Beard hurled for the Helfriches.

Circleville Colt Wins Close Verdict

In the Class C pace, Bill Shuter, currently second place driver at Hilliards, won with Helen Ann, owned by Mrs. Dorothy G. Johnson of Wilmington.

Soil Bank Delays 'Hurt Wheat Setup

WASHINGTON (AP)—Agriculture
Department officials claim delay of Congress in deciding the fate of the controversial soil bank program threatens efforts to reduce wheat surplus.
Time already is at hand, they said, when department field workers should be out getting grower signatures on agreements to retire a part of the 1958 crop wheat allotments under the soil bank.

In Utah the death penalty for murder is by either hanging or shooting.

Movie Producers Not Sure What Makes a Film a 'Hit'

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — What does it take to achieve a film hit? That's the problem that has always faced Hollywood, and now more than ever. Many of the top producers admit they are baffled by public tastes.

"You just can't tell what they are going for these days," one of them sighed recently.

Take "Spirit of St. Louis" as an example. Studios had been after Lindbergh's story ever since he flew the Atlantic. Finally, the Lone Eagle released the rights. Warners had enough faith in it to the picture. Your biggest market today is with the kids. A guy flying the Atlantic alone in a little putt-putt makes no impression on them. They know that jets can cross the ocean in a few hours today."

Perhaps the answer is in analyzing the successes. But even that can be a stumbling block. One of the biggest hits of 1956 is "Gunfight at O.K. Corral." Here is how one studio head commented on it to me:

"The picture is a collection of all the cliches in western pictures. The characters—Wyatt Earp and Doc Holliday—can be seen on television every night of the week. Yet it's a big hit. How do you figure it?"

It was a fine picture and drew excellent reviews. But not enough business. Warner Brothers faces a heavy loss. Second - guessing is Hollywood's favorite sport, and "Spirit" has been debated from here to the Sunset Strip. Here's how one veteran star analyzed it: "They waited too long to make the picture. Your biggest market today is with the kids. A guy flying the Atlantic alone in a little putt-putt makes no impression on them. They know that jets can cross the ocean in a few hours today."

Perhaps the answer is in analyzing the successes. But even that can be a stumbling block. One of the biggest hits of 1950 is "Gunfight at O.K. Corral." Here is how one studio head commented on it to me: "The picture is a collection of all the cliches in western pictures. The characters — Wyatt Earp and Doc Holliday — can be seen on television every night of the week. Yet it's a big hit. How do you figure it?"

Siren's Wail To Start It

Civil Defense Alert Only Token Test Here

If you hear one long shrieking blast from the siren atop the courthouse here Friday, don't get excited—it will mean only that the nationwide three-day Civil Defense test has started.

The time to get alarmed is when you hear a long wailing wail—that would mean the real thing, a national emergency.

The nation-wide alert, Friday, Saturday and Sunday will not create much of a furor here, C. Virgil Sexton, the county Civil Defense director for Fayette County, said Thursday. It will hardly be noticeable on the surface, he commented.

However, there will be considerable activity among several volunteer groups such as the auxiliary police force headed by Coyt Stookey; the auxiliary firemen under the leadership of Chief George Hall of the Washington C. H. Fire Department; the rescue truck staff headed by George Montgomery and the Ground Observer Corps, led by Supervisor Lyle Sowders.

THE SELECTIVE Service board headquarters is to move to Jeffersonville, but Sexton explained that "this will be only a token move."

Warning Is Issued On Penny Albums

William Stoughton, manager of the Washington C. H. Chamber of Commerce, issued a warning today against Lincoln penny coin albums currently being advertised under what he described as a "buy-back" lure.

The operation has been branded a fraud by the National Better Business Bureau and the U. S. Post Office Dept., Stoughton said. Readers are told in advertisements, Stoughton said, to send $1 for a Lincoln coin album "to hold your pennies." They also say the seller offers to buy back the completed album for a substantial sum—usually $16.

Nowhere in the advertising, Stoughton stated, is the reader advised that the coins necessary to complete the album must bear specified mint marks or, in some cases, the initials of the engraver. "In order to complete the album, certain rare coins would be required," Stoughton pointed out, adding "and those coins would sell for a good deal more to registered collectors, anyway."

"It's just a scheme to sell the albums," he declared.

and Peggy Anders have been guests.

The Rev. Robert Slocum is conducting the school. Miss Janie Smith is pianist, Miss Linda Bell, secretary and Mrs. John Morgan, treasurer.
